Roy Kashi, CEO of Falconedge, commented:

"June represented another strong month for Falconedge's Bitcoin Yield Strategy, despite another challenging month for the underlying Bitcoin price. The Company delivered a monthly Bitcoin yield of 1.971% and added a further 0.4087 BTC to our treasury holdings. This performance increased our total Bitcoin balance to 21.0824 BTC while generating a fiat-denominated return of £18,470 for the month.

Our Q2 compounded yield of 3.965% demonstrates the consistency of our strategy, while our cumulative yield since inception has now reached 9.37%, adding more than 1.8 BTC to the Company's treasury with zero dilution to shareholders through disciplined yield generation rather than market appreciation alone.

These results continue to validate our approach of generating Bitcoin-denominated returns that are independent of Bitcoin price movements, increasing unencumbered Bitcoin per share and strengthening long-term shareholder value. We remain confident in the scalability of our strategy and our ability to continue compounding Bitcoin holdings over time."
